EATALY – ITALIAN PRODUCT AND CULTURE AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

Company Description: Eataly is the world’s largest artisanal Italian marketplace. Oscar Farinetti opened the first Eataly in 2007 in Turin inspired by the Slow Food Movement and a desire to share Italian regional cuisine across the entire country of Italy. Since then, Eataly has expanded to open more than 35 locations worldwide. Eataly aims to make high quality, sustainable foods available to everyone at fair prices for both consumers and producers. Each Eataly typically contains multiple full-service restaurants, quick service stations, retail offerings and a cooking school, creating an environment where people can experience Italy through eating, shopping and learning.

Program Purpose: The Italian Product and Culture (PC) Ambassador program is designed to provide a unique opportunity for recent graduates to apply their knowledge of Italian products and culture in an international setting.

PC Ambassadors will gain hands-on professional experience in a global corporation. Through project work and diverse interdepartmental duties, PC Ambassadors will have exposure to and perspective on Eataly USA’s business operations, strategies, clientele, and will work closely with the Events and Story Teller Manager. The program aims to foster cross-cultural understanding and to promote the development of leadership skills in all participants. Applicants should not have an expectation of employment with Eataly USA upon program completion.

Duration: 1 year

Program Description: PC Ambassadors will be under the direct supervision of the Events and Story Teller Manager and Product Training Manager, collaborating across various departments including but not limited to: Retail, Marketing, Store Operations, Purchasing, and HR.

- PC Ambassadors will be challenged to use the knowledge and skills gained in their university programs to creatively build passion and excitement around Eataly products and culture amongst both employees and guests.
- Through active participation and pioneering of new initiatives, PC Ambassadors will learn sales techniques and how to activate a marketplace through demonstrations, proactive and organic engagement with guests, and special educational events.
- PC Ambassadors will act as personal shoppers and guide customers in making informed choices on products and product pairings.
- PC Ambassadors will assist the Events and Story Teller Manager in effective training for Story Tellers and delivery of the program on the floor.
- PC Ambassadors will have the opportunity to liaise with Eataly’s Purchasing team and be in direct contact with producers, assisting them with demonstrations and events at Eataly.
- In collaboration with HR, PC Ambassadors will be involved in the organization of training classes to teach staff about Italian products, culture, and language.
- PC Ambassadors will lead tours and classes for private and public groups. In collaboration with the Events team, PC Ambassadors will help improve tour and class offerings.
- PC Ambassadors will have the opportunity to engage with schools and educational organizations, guide field trips of Eataly, and invent new types of collaborations.
- In cooperation with Marketing, PC Ambassadors will help generate Facebook live content related to Italian products and culture.
Program Details:

- At Eataly’s discretion, PC Ambassadors will be placed at an Eataly USA location.
